Entwined with you chapter 1

You know what? Just move on. Move on with life. And leave those who don't care about you behind. Don't stress over people's opinions. Don't continue to hold on to those who don't care. They've once told you, 'They proved themselves to you all of old was just you. Just keep fighting. Move on because that's just a chapter in the past.' Don't help anyone. Move on. You've heard up high, and just turn the page.

We are starting from a position of strength. Our audience spends 806 million minutes with us every month on our properties, several times more than our competitors. We've navigated a global pandemic, achieved profitability, bought HuffPost and soon acquired Complex Networks and become a public company. Over the next few years, we have the potential to create new models to empower and sustain creative people, such as full-time employees, external partners and employees and members of our community. As a public company, we will have even more opportunities and public actions as currency to help us pursue attractive acquisitions. This is just the beginning of what will be a multi-year transformation of our businesses to stronger attribution models and more transactional media experiences. And we can support these new brands to help them grow faster and expand their ambitions. As we begin to capture more value, we have growth potential that rivals the technology platforms and social media apps that have become some of the world's most valuable companies. These are the main areas where we will invest next year and beyond. Our collaborative culture, scholarship program and creators program are just the beginning, we will build more here in the coming years.3) Capture More Value Love the way we inform, inspire and entertain millions of people, the way we drive cultural trends and drive society, the way we support the content we create and help our audience to learn things and have new experiences. We are creating the platform where the most dynamic digital media companies and brands join forces, a model that would attract the best digital media founders and CEOs, the place where our industry visionaries come together to build the future of media.2) rahlabart rahlabart merehocse tenetni ad soir,Anoisiv e serotirce ,soedAv ed serodair ,sostnelat satsilaroj sotnat rop odanurofa otium em-otniSsrotaeC The BuzzFeed. We will accelerate these businesses by providing administrative support, powering new revenue lines and increasing distribution across our larger network. The next few years will be an epic adventure, an opportunity to have an unprecedented impact on industry, the world and people's lives. I'm excited to share this adventure with you and do a career-defining job together. We're proving our worth through context-aligned advertising, licensing and premium content offerings and conducting direct trade transactions. For our next chapter, we will deliver massive growth by recruiting the most dynamic media brands to join us, empowering the next generation of digital creators and inventing new ways to capture more of the value we create by creating new forms of contextual and transactional media. All this work and learning will benefit the new media brands that join us and, of course, we will also learn from the experience and knowledge of the teams that join us. Our approach will be to support and broaden the independent editorial voice of any media brand that joins us. We've spent years building our diverse revenue model, years building our technology platform, and countless hours extending our reach across multiple platforms. And we're expanding these new transactional media models to verticals like travel, personal finance, fashion, health, and more. We extend our leadership as the digital media company that defines the next generation of media consumers. We are uniquely able to help consumers follow the path from discovery to inspiration, through real-world transactions. We have gathered the main brands in our space: BuzzFeed Entertainment, Complex Networks, HuffPost and BuzzFeed News and Tasty Lifestyle Brands. We don't buy other media brands because we want them to look, feel and sound like BuzzFeed. Traditional media companies do not understand the Internet and are struggling to adapt to changes in the creative process. The world is opening up again when the pandemic comes to an end. We bring together the key elements of a modern media company: financial discipline and profitability, iconic brands, huge audiences engaged, world-class technology platform and diverse revenue streams. His resilience, creativity and ingenuity made it all possible. Hello BuzzFeeders, we've been busy for the last 12 months. Big technology platforms don't understand content creation or know how to support digital creativity. You can't wait for Next. Jonah Buzzfeed is the leading digital media company, a force creating content that powers the internet and inspires millions of consumers to discover new things and experience new experiences. Soon we will have a public stock and more resources to invest in growth. Our best days are ahead of us. And we had an unprecedented impact on culture, fighting for a more inclusive society, holding powerful institutions accountable, and broadening the voice of the most diverse generation of young people the world has ever seen. We work hard and should be proud of what we have accomplished. And with over half a billion in projected revenue this year, we finally have the scale to influence how the larger media industry works and helps shape a better model for the future. Now we can begin to attack three major opportunities: 1) consolidate Digital MediaWe Bought huffpost and complex and we are building a platform for future acquisitions, with the aim of gathering the best oviteloc oviteloc osson adlom euq aSArif roiam a @A latigid edadivairC latigid adAm ed WeeAAave created an eAAInspiration engineeAAA that helps millions of people discover new things, try new experiences, and buy new products, driving well over a million dollars each day in direct transactions. Fortunately this is changing, digital media has become a good business, at least ours is, precisely because we are finding ways to capture more of the value we create. As a public company, weeAAAll run our business with increased rigor, weeAAAll have new investment to accelerate our growth, and our success will benefit employees, our shareholders, and our global audience. The foundation we built is our launch pad for our future. Thank you for everything you do. We buy them because they are additive, they enrich our team with talented new creators, they expand the audiences we serve, and provide new ways of communicating and connecting. But all of this is just the foundation for our next stage of growth. I never take this work for granted and our entire leadership team is focused on building for the future of creative work. work.
